Yukon Chamber of Commerce Celebrates Excellence in Business

The Yukon Chamber of Commerce is proud to announce this year's annual business award winners. The Awards recognize and celebrate excellence in business in the Territory and will take place on January 29th at the High Country Inn.

"This is a memorable event where we recognize the remarkable accomplishments of a diverse group of flourishing, resilient and innovative Yukon business", states Chamber Chair Andy Stouffer.

Yukon's Business Person of the Year award goes to Rod and Carol Adams of Nuway Crushing Ltd. for their passion, success and commitment to community.

Among the many nominations received, two nominees for the Business Service of the Year were so deserving, it was decided this award would be shared between Pat and Barb Irvin of Watson Lake Foods and Bill Bowie of Arctic Inland Resources.

The Chamber is very pleased to present the Rob Harvey Memorial Award to Stephen Quin, who was instrumental in opening the first hard rock mine to operate in the Territory for many years.

The Yukon Chamber of Commerce business awards is our opportunity to celebrate the success of our business community," say Chamber President, Sandy Babcock. "These awards exemplify the best our territory has to offer; entrepreneurs who are willing to take chances, push the boundaries and stretch the limits for success."
